Inspired Nature

At the height of global isolation, with the world collectively paused, our design team realized that nature has the ability to restore itself to a healthier balance. We saw a resurgence of cleaner air and a reduction in water and noise pollution. We saw tangible examples of what can happen when we minimize our human impact.

Drawn from nature's ability to heal itself and us, the neutral flooring from the Inspired Nature Collection allows you to create environmentally conscious spaces where people are supported and inspired to perform at their best.
